Who's Who Lists Cadets As Rated By Senior Class

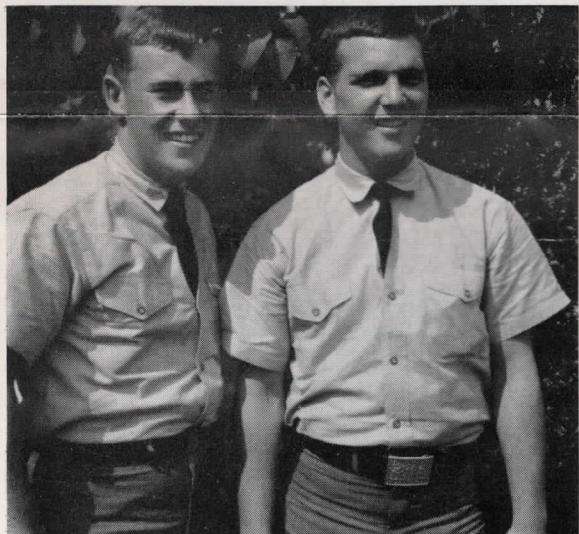

Each year as Finals approaches, a poll is taken among the cadets to determine whom they rate in various categories.

The poll was taken among members of the graduating class and the votes were counted and certified by Capt. Jaynes. In each category, the three cadets receiving the highest number of votes are listed.

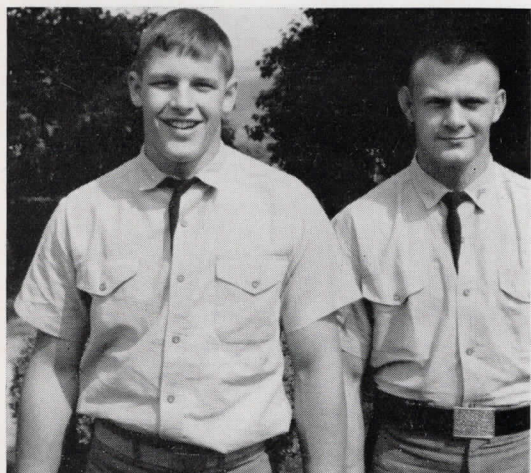

Best officer . . .

Chris Nuckols was voted best officer. Second and third place winners, respectively, were Rex Miller and Tom Mathews.

Most popular . . .

Who's Who voters elected Jim McIntosh most popular cadet. Mike DeAyora and Ken Connor ran a close second and third.

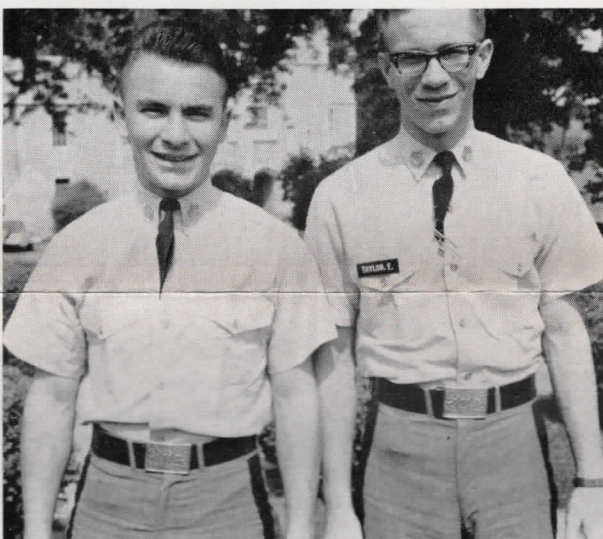

Best built . . .

Second and third place winners in this year's best built category are Jerry Stone and Henley Carter. Not pictured is first place winner Dave Elms.

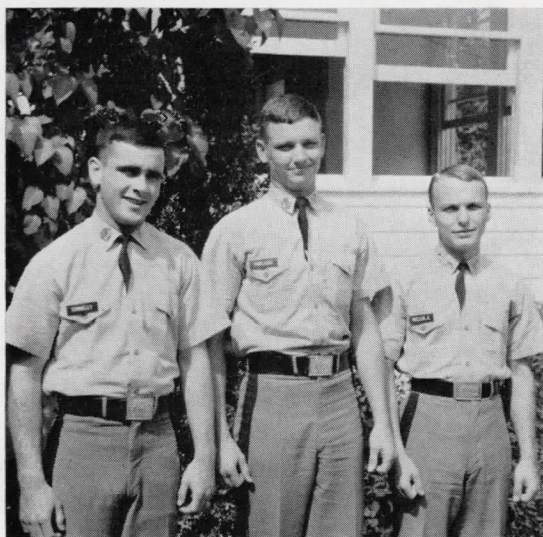

Most likely to succeed . . .

Henley Carter was voted most likely to succeed in this year's Who's Who election. Second place winner was Richard Taylor, and third place honors went to Tommy Phillips.

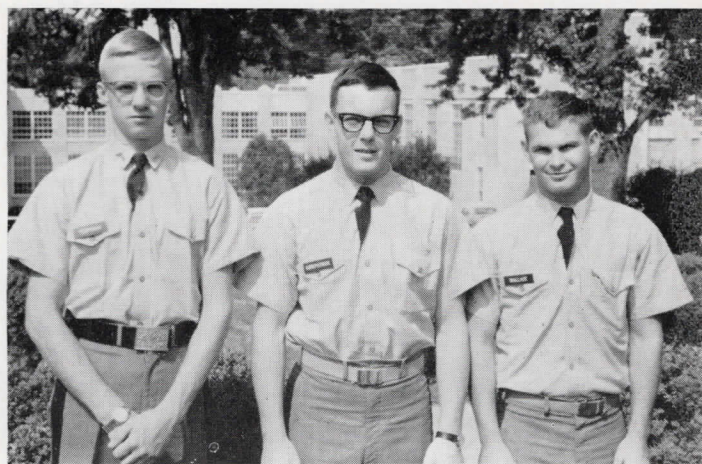

Best NCO . . .

Best NCO went to Ed Taylor, succeeded by Gary Coslop and John Knight.

Most Military . . .

The most military cadet, according to popular consensus, is Rex Miller. Runners-up were Dick Connelly and Frank Poplaski.

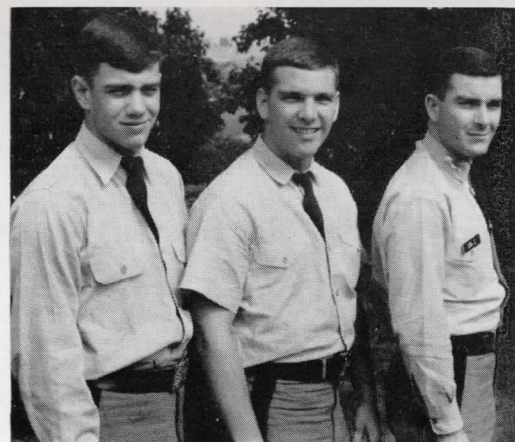

Best new cadet . . .

Donny Wallace was first place winner in the best new cadet category. Second and third places went to Bill Kirkpatrick and Hank Perryman.

Best Student . . .

Tommy Phillips and Doug Deffenbaugh won this year's Who's Who best student second and third place awards. Richard Taylor placed first.

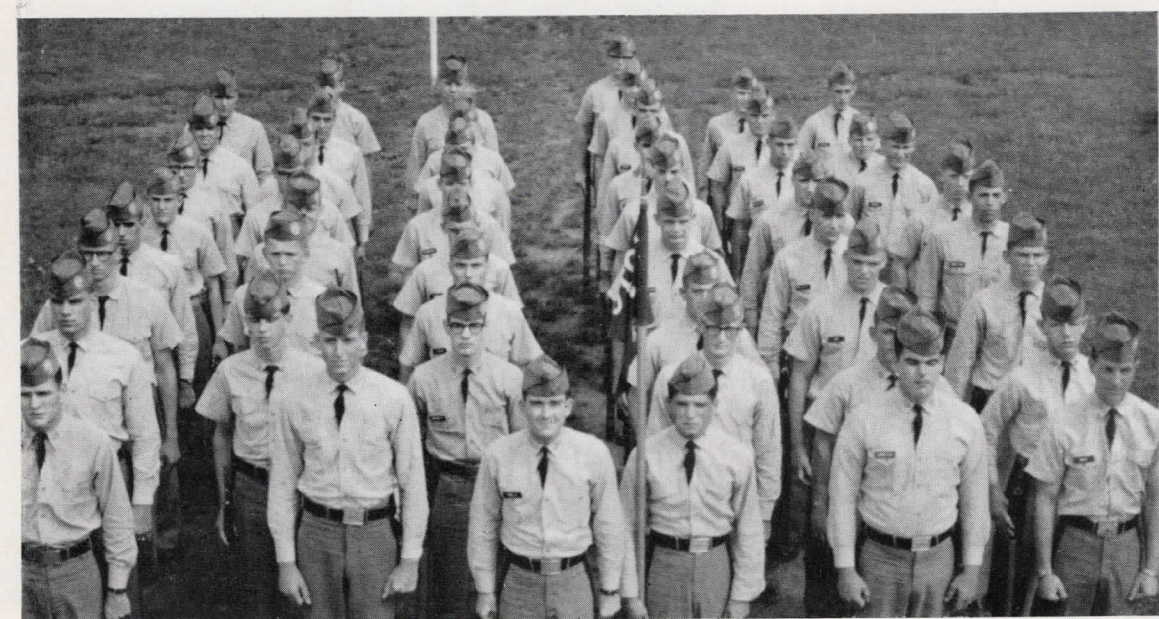

Best looking . . .

The senior class voted Peyton Lea the best looking cadet, Lee Duncan the second best, and Jim McIntosh third.

Under the leadership of Cadet Capt. Peyton Lea, Tom Mathews and Charlie Smith, A Company has proved itself capable of doing anything its leaders have set to accomplish.

Peyton Lea, our company commander, has proven again and again to be a firm, yet friendly officer and one of the most popular captains in the corps. Peyton is also very popular outside school where he was seen at the Pin-Up Queen dance escorting the lovely "Dottie" Duval from Stuart Hall. "A" for ability is very evident in the field of academics. The company has had a large representation on both Honor Roll and Privilege List this year.

No one can dispute the fact that A Company has been well represented in athletics this year. Dick Crafton, Tony Banovic, Al Amrhein, Mike Evans, Dick Roe, John Gitzen, Rick Cunnare, Tom Mathews, Charlie Smith, Larry Pence, and Eddie Stamm were all members of varsity teams. Al Armhein, John Gitzen and George Jones set new school records in track. Named "Best Athlete of 1964," Larry Pence continued to prove himself worthy of such an honor through his performances in sports this year.

Tom Mathews, Jack Snapp and Matt Bradbury led the company in military inspections. Ronnie Morgan, Ben Bass and Forbes Braithwaite have added the friendly discipline that is necessary to have a successful company throughout the year.

The story of "A" Company's spirit cannot be told in a few words, but some individuals have been outstanding in keeping the spirit and morale at a peak this year. Among these are Tom Mathews, who has managed to keep the company spirit high by keeping his spirit high, and George Jones whose antics have kept everyone in a cheerful manner throughout the year. Harry Sieber has provided lively music with his record player and guitar to enlighten the few dismal days found here.

As a unit "A" Company has completely lived up to the school motto "Ad Astra Per Astra."

Although "C" Company has had its ups and downs, it has been able to maintain the first place rating of the corps. Working together to achieve and maintain this 1st place rating proves in itself the outstanding capabilities of C Company.

The captain is Cadet Capt. Paul "Pigmy" McKrell, a 5'4" born leader. "Pigmy", commonly known as the "barracks Barber" is without a doubt the most indispensable member of the company. His size proves to be no asset to his accomplishments as he disciplines his company with the utmost of leadership. 1st Lt. Dildine, whose sternness has kept the 1st platoon in tip top condition, manages to keep spirit and friendliness woven into perfection as he brings the 1st platoon to be respected by the whole corps. Lt. Ray Painter, who is notably, quiet brings his platoon up to par with stamina and excellence. Towering over the second platoon is John Spence, able and boisterous leader, with Burny Sacks controlling the 1st platoon. To brighten up the dreary mornings is first seargent Bones Skelton, with his loud, distinct "FALL IN". Keeping close count on the company's attendance is only one of the many responsibilities. Bones takes to aiding the company in keeping its first place position.

When morale is low and the company's "Esprit de Corps" is declining, John Walz is always close at hand. His happy go lucky attitude is most rewarding when the chips are down. Keeping the company well informed on the latest news is George Pendergraft. Acting as a secret agent, George manages to obtain more gossip before it reaches anyone else.

But no matter what the situation, "C" Company manages to be in complete control when any problem may arise. This is what keeps the men of "C" Company well prepared and at the top.
